To Whom It May Concern,

RE: Legal Line Testimonial

I have been asked to provide an account of my experience with LegalLine.ca (“Legal Line”). The site is my go-to for online promotion, and I have yet to have any issues whatsoever with the service. Legal Line attracts the type of clients with whom I am looking to connect, and the support I receive from Ian is invaluable. I cannot recommend the website enough.

As a relatively new and small law office, I initially found it difficult to attract clients. I explored a variety of marketing strategies to get my name out there. I began by using “mainstream” services such as buying ad words on Google. I got a lot of calls, but often outside my area of practice. I did not feel I was getting value for the amount I was paying. I started advertising with Legal Line in February 2018 and haven’t looked back since.

Whenever a potential client calls or visits the office, we ask where they hear about us. Legal Line is by far the biggest return on investment. I attribute a lot of my office’s growth to the amount of business I receive from Legal Line and have invested more and more into my presence on the website over time. In that regard, Ian has assisted me in developing my business. Whenever I require any sort of assistance with managing my presence on the website, Ian goes above and beyond to ensure satisfaction.

If you are a lawyer who is seeking to promote yourself, I strongly recommend using Legal Line. Please do not hesitate to contact me with any questions or concerns.

Yours very truly,

CARYMA SA'D
